Liberty Baptist Church to Dedicate New Building Sunday

Sunday, May 5, members and friends of the Liberty Baptist church will have the pleasure and privilege of dedicating their beautiful new church building.

This will mark the climax of a rebuilding program that was started only a little more than a year ago.

Early on the morning of Oct. 7, 1955, the Liberty Baptist church was completely destroyed by fire. Not only was the building burned, but all furnishings, including a new piano, new rugs, pews, song books, altar and altar chairs.

Arrangements were immediately made to hold worship services in the nearby Liberty school building and the congregation continued to meet there during the winter months.

In the early spring of 1956 plans were made during the winter months were put into action and construction on a new, modern structure was started.

Fourth Building on Site

The church to be dedicated to the Service of God Sunday is brick and concrete exterior.

The beautiful sanctuary has light oak pews, red carpeting, organ to match the pews and centered back of the pulpit is a large picture of Jesus. The basement has room for a Sunday school department opening exercise and

Protested Coal Sales Tax Funds Released to State

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Three million dollars in protested coal sales tax funds today were released to the state as general revenue, ending a three year legal fight.

Atty. Gen. Latham Castle advised State Treasurer Elmer J. Hoffman Tuesday that the money could be released. Castle's order wound up a three year court fight in which coal companies claimed their sales of coal to public utilities were not subject to sales tax.

The three million dollars had been paid on coal sales under protest, and consequently could not be used until the case had been settled.

Rescind Order To Remove Oil Vacuum Pumps

Action Follows Hearing on Eldorado Field

The Division of Oil and Gas, State of Illinois, has rescinded an order to remove vacuum pumps from oil wells in the Eldorado field, it was learned today.

The rescinding order was given following a hearing held at Springfield April 4, in which those favoring the continued removal of the vacuum pumps were represented by Atty. Clarence Smith of Flora and those seeking to have the order rescinded were represented by Atty. Ralph W. Choiser and Atty. Joe M. Butler of Saline county.

Installation of vacuum pumps in the Eldorado field was increasing production by about 33 1-3 per cent, it was stated, with some wells getting a greater percentage of oil from pulling a vacuum than others.

Some oil producers including Inland of Evansville, W. C. McBride of Centralia and R. W. Portis of Evansville, at a hearing before the Division of Oil and Gas, contended vacuum pumps would damage a secondary recovery, which is done by water flooding.

This group received an order in its favor for removal of vacuum pumps.

Another group of producers including John Stelle Associates, Walter Duncan, J. H. Robinson (formerly Breuer-Robinson) and Olen Sharp employed Choiser and Butler to represent them at an April 4 hearing on the matter, contending the vacuum pumps did not damage secondary recovery.

These also contended that the order was putting out of business the Jade Gas Co., organized to buy gas in the Eldorado field by running lines to 70 per cent of the field and selling it to the Big Inch line.

Bill Urges State To Buy Property in Old Shawneetown

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Sen. Paul A. Ziegler of Carmi introduced a bill in the Illinois State Senate Tuesday which would authorize the Department of Conservation to purchase for $150,000 certain property and land in Old Shawneetown.

The property, about a city block, includes St. Mary's Catholic church, the rectory and community building. It adjoins property already owned by the state, which is part of the Shawneetown State Park area.

Sen. Ziegler said Tuesday night the church building is so large it couldn't be moved, and the parish is planning to build a new church in New Shawneetown. It was proposed that the old church building be used as a museum, in connection with the park.

Nationwide Competition

Robert Jones, HTHS Senior, Wins National Merit Scholarship

Robert Barrett Jones of Raleigh, RFD 1, a senior at Harrisburg Township high school, has won a National Merit scholarship in nationwide competition.

Young Jones, son of State Senator Glen O. Jones and Mrs. Jones, was one of 830 brilliant teenagers named Merit Scholars of 1957 following competition in which more than 12,500 United States high schools entered 162,000 of their best students.

He was one of 48 in Illinois to win such a scholarship and was the only one in the state south of Urbana to get an award.

Each Merit scholarship is a four-year award and each Merit Scholar is free to attend any accredited college in the U. S. and to choose any course of study leading to a baccalaureate degree.

Each Merit scholarship carries a stipend that is based on the student's need, and is hence confidential. This stipend is variable and is determined for each Merit Scholar individually. The Merit Scholar may thus make his selection of any accredited college in the U. S. without regard to either college cost or his family's financial condition, since each stipend provides the difference between cost and his available funds.

Minimum stipend, where no need is determined to exist, is $100 per year for four years; and there is no maximum. The average is about $650 a year although several exceeded $2,000.

The National Merit Scholarship program was begun in 1955 based on grants of twenty million dollars from the Ford Foundation and $500,000 from the Carnegie Corporation.

Robert B. Jones of HTHS has won a Wabash College Honor Scholarship valued at $5,250 over a four-year period, it was announced today by the college. Jones is one of five top winners among 185 contestants at the Crawfordville, Ind., college. Awards were made on the basis of competitive examinations held on the campus April 9-10.

Drop Murder Charge

Sinroll Sentenced to Six Months At Vandalia; 2 1-2 Years Probation

MURPHYSBORO, Ill.—Fred Sinroll, 20, today was sentenced to 6 months in the Vandalia State Penal Farm and 2 1-2 years' probation for the accidental slaying of his roommate, Robert Batura, 19, Danvers, Mass.

Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds imposed the sentence after State's Atty. William Ridgeway dropped the murder charge against the youth, and substituted for it a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Sinroll pleaded guilty to the lesser charge.

Defense Attorney William Wolf said Ridgeway made the proposal during a conference called shortly after Sinroll began testifying in his own defense.

Ridgeway said the state concluded it would be impossible to prove the premeditation and malice which he would have to show to obtain a murder conviction.

Mrs. Sophie Batura, sobbed as she told the United Press that she did not consider the sentence severe enough.

"I have no more sons, but this boy will always suffer for the rest of his life for what he did to my son," she said.

Mrs. Batura denied reports which she said quoted her as saying she did not want Sinroll prosecuted.

"I wanted that boy prosecuted," she said.

Mrs. Batura said her husband, Constantine, a machinist, and her daughter Constance, 21, a nurse at a Salem hospital, have suffered grievously from Robert's death.

Measure to Fix Speed Limits Passes, 46 to 7

$41 Million for SIU Included in Building Proposal

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The Senate today passed Gov. William G. Stratton's $248-million-dollar bond issue bill for the financing of needed construction at Illinois' colleges and universities and welfare institutions.

The measure, if passed by the House, could be subject to a 1958 referendum. It provides $6 million dollars for the University of Illinois, $1 million for mental hospitals and welfare institutions, and $40 million for the four state teachers colleges and $1 million for Southern Illinois University.

The measure was passed, 43-8. Originally 238 million dollars, it had been amended to boost the state teachers colleges share from 30 to 40 million.

Sen. Egbert B. Groen (R-Pekin), objected that the bonds, which would be paid off over 20 years, would cost the state 100 million dollars in interest charges.

Pass Speed Bill He suggested that a sales tax increase would be necessary to meet the interest payments, and that it would be better to enact an immediate sales tax increase to pay for the needed construction.

Such a procedure, he said, would avoid a bond issue and the high interest costs.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House, 46-7, a bill to fix absolute 65 mile per hour day and 55 night speed limits on Illinois highways.

The Senate also passed to the House a measure which would require a three-year residence requirement in Illinois for recipients of public aid payments, except for those in the aid to dependent children program.

The speed limit bill, backed by the Motor Vehicle Laws Commission, originally was drawn to continue the present "reasonable and proper" speed control program in Illinois, but later was amended to provide for rigid speed limits.

Sen. Fred J. Hart (R-Streator) was principal sponsor. The 65-55

Illinois Sheriffs Renew Fight on More State Police

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Sheriffs Assn. today announced a renewed "all-out fight" to defeat Gov. William G. Stratton's highway safety program bill for adding 500 men to the state police force.

The association's fight put in opposite corners Stratton and State Treasurer Elmer J. Hoffman, who was a running mate of the Governor in last year's election.

Hoffman is secretary-treasurer of the sheriffs association and acts as its spokesman.

The legislative and executive committees of the association met here Monday night and voted unanimously to oppose the state police force increase.

Hoffman said the sheriffs are opposed to the increase because state policemen are "infringing" on the duties of sheriffs, the present state police force should be given pay increases in line with the cost of living, and the estimated seven million dollar cost for 500 additional state policemen is "out of line" because the present force is not being used to "the full extent of its facilities."

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Moscow Hopes To Stir Up Anti-U. S. Sentiment In Panama; Chiang Kai-Shek Protests U. S. Newsmen To China; British Now Want To Protect Col. Nasser Of Best Of Bad Egypt.

WASHINGTON. — It's being hushed up, but CIA Director Allen Dulles has warned that the Russians have launched a big propaganda campaign to convince Panama to follow Egypt's Suez lead and seize the Panama Canal. Allen, also younger brother of the Secretary of State, believes this may produce a big crisis right in your own wide-yard.

Unlike the Suez Canal, the Panama Canal runs through territory the United States government bought and paid for many years ago. But this doesn't faze the Russians. They are telling the Panamanians they have a right to revoke the sale, and could then get rich on canal tolls.

CHIANG KAI-SHEK PROTESTS

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has sent a frantic message to President Eisenhower, pleading that he not allow American reporters to visit Red China.

The cable followed on the heels of Dulles' revelation that he is ready to lift the travel ban which has been keeping newsmen away.

Chiang warned that visits by reporters would be disastrous to his prestige in the Far East.

Chances are the White House will ignore his protests.

NASSER PLOT REVERSED

It will never be admitted but a British plot to kill Dictator Nasser has been quietly reversed. British operatives in Egypt are now under orders, ironically, to keep Nasser alive at all costs.

Reason is that the British now believe Nasser's likely successor would be more dangerous than the wily dictator himself. Nasser has surrounded himself with so many Communist sympathizers that the Reds would probably take over Egypt completely in case of his demise.

U. S. agents were aware of the original British assassination plot—which may seem like a drastic solution to the Egyptian problem, but it's the way politics are played in the intrigue-ridden Middle East. U. S. agents also report that the British changed signals after concluding the assassination strategy would boomerang.

They figured the Reds would make a martyr of Nasser, using his death to stir up Arab emotions and take over the government. Nasser's probable successor would be Lt. Col. Zakaria Mohi El-Din, now minister of interior, who controls the secret police. Absolutely ruthless, he is considered a Moscow stooge.

Next most powerful person in the Egyptian government is minister of education, Kamel Ad-Din Hussein, another follower of the Moscow line, who also commands the so-called "National Liberation Army." As an example of his brand of "education," he recently called on Egyptian students to hate the western "enemy."

"Smash him, kill him, exterminate him!" cried Hussein. "Every compatriot, every youth, every old man must remember that the first factor for destroying our enemy is to hate him, to hold him in contempt, and to fill our hearts with rage and hatred against him."

It is significant that the Communist technique for infiltrating a country is to gain control first, of the secret police, then the educational system.

IKE'S EX-AIDE

The backstage story that has been intriguing Washington society for weeks now seems on the way to settlement. It's the alimony dispute between Ike's former naval aide, Capt. Harry Butcher, and his former wife, which was scheduled to involve Mrs. Eisenhower as a witness.

Captain Butcher, a popular figure around Washington for many years, where he was the first representative of CBS, served as wartime naval aide to the now President of the United States. While their husbands were abroad, Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Butcher shared the same apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel.

After the war, Butcher wrote the best-selling book, "My Three Years With Eisenhower." And having long been separated from his wife, divorced her in the spring of 1946, married Mary Margaret Ford May 7, 1946, and went to live in Santa Barbara, Calif., where he now owns and operates Radio-TV station KEYT.

By a property settlement made March 20, 1946, Harry was to pay his first wife $1,500 a month for life or until remarriage. She now claims, in a suit for alimony filed in the U. S. District Court in the District of Columbia, that this was reduced by verbal agreement in September 1951 to $750 a month on condition that payments be made regularly on the first of the month.

However, Mrs. Butcher now alleges that payments lagged behind. She asks that the old agreement be reinstated, and claims back payments of $41,850—$4,050 for 1953, and $37,800 for 1953-56, during which only $600 a month was paid.

Mrs. Butcher has continued to be a good friend of Mrs. Eisenhower and is a frequent caller at the White House. Butcher's attorneys were reported planning to call Mamie as a witness to show that his former wife had lived on less than $750 a month when they were married and that he was supporting her in better circumstances now than then.

However, Butcher reached in Santa Barbara, said that a property settlement was under discussion and a compromise certain to be reached. There are signs of relief around the White House, but sighs of disappointment around Washington society.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Congressmen aren't happy about it, but Congressman Clare Hoffman's proposal to abolish income taxes is now drawing more mail on Capitol Hill than any other measure. The House Judiciary Committee is receiving over 500 letters a day demanding hearings on Hoffman's bill. No hearings will be held. . . . Budget pruners have hit the National Arboretum, the nation's outdoor "Tree Museum," so badly that it had to appeal to Boy Scouts to clear a fire break. The arboretum, which depends on Congress for money to study and preserve trees on its 300-acre grounds, is now strapped.

You can help cattle win their battle against heel flies and grubs by dusting or spraying your animals with rotenone before the grubs leave the cattle backs this spring, says a University of Illinois veterinarian.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Sirens on ambulances, fire trucks and police cars are very frightening to some people. Some of the fear results from our basic fear of loud noises. Additional fear can grow out of damaging experiences which have been associated with similar noises or sounds.

We tend to relate experiences to sensory preceptions. We are inclined to presuppose our new reactions to stimuli because of related stimulus responses in the past. Somehow we must come to realize that the sounds we hear in conjunction with previous experiences are merely for the purpose of preventing a recurrence of such unpleasant experiences.

Fear of God is not a terrible thing. Fear of God should really be translated into a few thoughts of respect, a few examples of assistance and a variety of warnings. When the siren blows, stand still and gets its real message of precaution.

God's word should not create fear but it should inspire us to better living.

Lobbyist Registration, Conflict of Interest Bills Go to Senate Floor

SPRINGFIELD — Bills to require registration of lobbyists and to tighten up the state "conflict of interest" law went to the Senate floor today with recommendations that they pass.

The proposed new conflict of interest law was prompted by charges against State Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh (R-Champaign).

The lobbyist registration bill, drafted by Sen. Egbert B. Groen (R-Pekin), would require all lobbyists who spend more than $5,000 during a legislative session in influencing legislation to register with the secretary of state and file reports on their finances.

Violations of the act would be subject to a $5,000 fine and jail term up to two years.

The bill was sent to the floor Tuesday with a favorable vote by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Groen had eliminated from the bill original provisions which would have prohibited the practice of "log rolling" among legislators in which they trade their votes.

Recommended for Passage

However, the bill still would require legislators to file with the secretary of state's office within 30 days after the end of a session an affidavit declaring they had not been improperly influencing legislation.

The new "conflict of interest" bill would specifically define state contracts, ban legislators and their wives from holding any interest in them, and raise the maximum penalty for violations from $1,000 to $2,500.

This bill also was voted out of the Senate Judiciary Committee with a recommendation for passage.

It was amended to exempt the relatives of legislators other than their wives.

The present law says only that legislators are prohibited from dealing "directly or indirectly" in state contracts and sets the $1,000 penalty.

Clabaugh has been charged in Circuit Court here with violating the present law in connection with an $880 contract for security screens at Anna State Hospital allegedly held by his Champaign Weather Strip Co.

In floor action, the House passed and moved to the Senate a bill to set up a state scholarship program to cost an eventual $2,400,000 and to cover private as well as public colleges and universities.

The bill has the double aim of aiding needy students and at the same time easing the pressure on overcrowded state colleges and universities by helping students pay their way through private institutions.

The bill provides $600,000 to be granted to 1,000 students for the school year starting in 1959 to get the program started. Eventually the program would be expanded to provide help for 4,000 students a year—1,000 in each of the four years of college.

The House also passed to the Senate a new formula for state aid to school bus transportation based on the number of pupils in a district and the distances they have to travel.

The formula is based on a plan to allow higher state aid, up to $32 a pupil, in districts where distances are great and the number of pupils is small, and where, consequently, the per pupil cost of transportation is high.

The present formula makes no special provision for such districts.

Two Equality FFA Students Win Section Awards

Honors came to two Equality F.F.A. students at a sectional meeting held at Southern Acres near Carbondale on April 17.

Donald Harbison, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Harbison of Herod, won the Farm Mechanics award for his section. This is an award that is presented annually to the outstanding junior or senior F.F.A. boy active in farm mechanics.

Harbison has been quite active in farm mechanics for the past four years under the leadership of his Vo-Ag instructor, Burton L. Shann. Some of his many projects include the following: built a hay rack, two self feeders for hogs, livestock rack for a pick-up truck, lawn chair, tool boxes, overhauled tractor, plus many repair and maintenance jobs around the farm and home.

Lendon Stille, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stille of Equality, won the section corn award. Stille has consistently produced yields of corn averaging 100 bushels per acre or more. This was accomplished by good seed corn, good cultural practices, lots of fertilizer, and a bountiful supply of rain and sunshine.

Stille won the DeKalb achievement award last year on his corn project. Both boys will go to Benton May 6 to compete in district competition.

LADIES HELD THEIR SEPARATE MEETING Tuesday while the meeting of the Shawnee Land Use Council was under way at the Harrisburg city hall. While the men were meeting in the council room, the women of the area met in the office of the Saline County Soil Conservation district. Standing is Mrs. Irwin Parrill of Farina, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Illinois State Association of Soil Conservation districts, and seated is Mrs. Paul L. Trovillion of Brownfield, vice chairman of Council 14 of the association and a member of the state board, who presided. Mrs. Parrill addressed the group. Mrs. Trovillion's husband is secretary of the Shawnee Land Use Council, and took part in the quarterly meeting held in the council room. (Register Staff Photo)

Senate Approves $248 Million Proposal

speed limit would be effective on all major state highways except toll roads and super-highways, on which a maximum limit of 70 could be established. Truck limits would be 35 for trucks under 8,000 pounds, and 50 for those over 8,000 pounds. Lower speed limits also could be placed on county and urban roads.

Gov. William G. Stratton has vigorously supported a similar proposal in the House as part of his traffic safety program, and the Hart bill has been amended to conform with it. A number of senators said, however, they would reluctantly vote for the rigid limits "to see if it would work."

But many of them agreed with Sen. Paul A. Ziegler (D-Carmel), who warned that lower limits might "create more hazardous driving conditions" than they would eliminate.

The three-year public assistance residence requirement bill was aimed at mounting relief costs in Illinois in prosperous times, and at persons allegedly coming into Illinois "to get on relief."

It would change the present one-year residence requirement.

Sen. John J. Donovan (R-Chicago), principal sponsor of the measure, said the bill "would keep public welfare from being the No. 1 branch of the state government," and would result in a "strong and rigid" public aid law.

Report Syria Prepared to Pull Out Troops

Diplomatic officials in Washington reported today that Syria was prepared to withdraw its troops from Jordan within a week in a move that would strengthen King Hussein's prestige throughout the Middle East.

Hussein also appeared to be strengthening his hold on Jordan although Western diplomats expressed fear the end of the Moslem holy month of Ramadan today might bring new disorders in the country.

Hussein told newsmen Tuesday the "crisis is ending" in Jordan after his strong steps to put down communism there and to "oust the destructive elements" that caused trouble there.

Hussein today visited Amman's grand mosque, protected by his army which sealed off the building and searched the thousands of early church-goers. Hussein traveled to and from the mosque in a heavily armed convoy while troops stood by with rifles and machine-guns on every rooftop and balcony along his way. There were no incidents.

United Press correspondent Donald J. Gonzales reported from Washington that Syria's expected action in withdrawing troops could be linked with increasing signs Moscow may be having second thoughts about its previous warm support for Egypt and Syria during the Mideast emergency.

Cook County Assessor Refuses to Resign After His Indictment

CHICAGO — Cook County Assessor Frank Keenan, former Democrat turned Republican, said Tuesday night he has no intention of resigning after his indictment on income tax evasion charges.

A federal grand jury Tuesday returned an 11-count indictment against the Chicago political power charging him with evading $225,048 in personal and corporate income taxes.

Also named in a conspiracy indictment were Keenan's brothers, James E. and Mark and his sons, Edward F. and George W.

Keenan promptly termed the charges "unwarranted and unfounded" and said they would be "disproved entirely." He blamed politics or "personal malice" for the charges.

Keenan and his brother James were freed on $5,000 bond and his son Edward posted $2,500 bond. The other brother, Mark, and the other son, George, were expected to post bond of $2,500 each today.

Keenan split with the Chicago Democratic machine after a lengthy feud with Mayor Richard Daley. He supported GOP candidates in the last city election and then made the break complete by joining the Republican Party.

If convicted, Keenan would face a maximum penalty of 55 years in prison and $110,000 in fines. The four co-defendants could be sentenced to five-year terms and receive $10,000 fines.

The indictment accused Keenan of evading $61,645 in personal income taxes filed for himself and his wife from 1950 through 1952. The government said Keenan claimed a net income of $76,116 for the three years but his actual income was $189,950.

Three indictments charged the assessor with evading $163,403 in corporation taxes for the Champlin-Shealy Co., a printing firm owned by Keenan and his wife.

Keenan's brothers and sons were charged with receiving illegal commissions amounting to $484,439 from 1946 through 1955.

War II Ace Dies In Air Collision

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. — A World War II hero who was shot down over Germany and flew 30 combat missions in Korea died in an air collision of two B-57 jet bombers here.

Three other airmen escaped injury, one by ejecting himself and parachuting and two others by making an "amazing" safe landing after the two craft locked wings Tuesday.

Capt. Henry R. Lundy, 33, holder of a Purple Heart and the Air Medal with an oak leaf cluster, was killed. He was navigator of one plane which crashed into an inlet 300 yards from the edge of the Langley runway.

Hard-Hitting Speech

Sen Byrd Says President Should Replace Budget Chief

WASHINGTON — Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said today President Eisenhower should replace Budget Director Percival F. Brundage with "a man that's dedicated to cutting the budget."

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and a leader of the conservative southern Democrats who have supported much of the Eisenhower program in the past, went after Brundage's scalp in a hard-hitting speech before the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

The Virginia Democrat said the President's new budget is "unduly and unnecessarily wasteful," and Mr. Brundage prepared it. "He said it would be 'very helpful' if the President got a new budget director pledged to 'economy' instead of finding new ways to spend money."

Brundage declined to comment on Byrd's remarks.

Byrd coupled his attack on Brundage with a proposal that federal spending be cut by eight billion dollars, to clear the way for a tax cut next year.

To correct misinformation, President Eisenhower meanwhile informed Republican congressional leaders that he is considering going to the people in a nationwide radio-television broadcast to present his side of the budget controversy.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower brought up the subject at this morning's legislative conference with congressional leaders. Hagerty said the President "feels there has been a great deal of misinformation spread about on many matters, particularly the budget," and he plans to "do what he can to correct it."

Hagerty said no definite plans have been made, but Eisenhower is considering "going on the air in a radio-TV talk to the American people," or perhaps even a "series" of talks.

Eisenhower is particularly anxious to defend his 4,400,000,000 foreign aid program, which has become the chief target of congressional economists out to slash his budget.

The President described foreign aid today as a "vital engine" needed to keep the ship of state on a "steady course" toward peace. He made that statement in an impromptu talk to representatives of the League of Women Voters who called at the White House.

He told the women that he wants to reduce spending and taxes as much as anyone in Congress, but is opposed to cuts in the foreign aid program which would jeopardize the cause of peace.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) told reporters after the White House

Expect NATO to Form Counter-Blast at Russia

BONN, Germany (AP) — NATO's retiring Secretary-General Lord Ismay said today the 15 nation Western alliance "is now a pretty good deterrent" to Soviet aggression.

The veteran British military leader and statesman arrived here for Thursday's opening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council session.

Ismay warned that refusal of any major Western nation to accept atomic weapons might endanger the whole alliance. But he emphasized that each member of the alliance has the right to decide for itself whether it wants nuclear arms. His remark was interpreted as a warning to West Germany's opposition Socialists who oppose A - weapons for the fledgling Bundeswehr.

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived from Washington to attend the council meeting which is expected to frame a joint Western counter-blast at the Soviet's current atomic war of nerves.

Dulles meets today with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who already has fired off West Germany's independent reply to the Kremlin threats.

Bonn government sources said joint Western reply to the latest Soviet threats of atomic annihilation most likely will be contained in the NATO Council's closing communiqué.

They said it probably will tell the Russians:
—The 15 free nations of NATO reject the Soviet threats and will not let themselves be intimidated.
—NATO is and always has been a purely defensive alliance and will not use its atomic "sword" except in self defense.

—NATO will not allow itself to be diverted by Soviet threats from its present defense planning.

See Drive to Cut Supports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration plans to make the first move within the next two days in a new drive to lower price supports floors.

Informed sources said today the move will be in the form of a report from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson to the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Benson announced Tuesday he would deliver the report before Friday. But he did not disclose what it would contain.

However, informed sources indicated the report would:

—Say the current support law is likely to build new crop surpluses after the current surplus stockpile is moved. That is because the law provides automatically for raising supports when supplies drop.

—Urge Congress to consider a remedy—possibly the elimination of the 75 per cent of parity price support floor.

Sources said Benson would not propose a new price support program at this time as a matter of strategy.

They said the administration fears such a proposal would only become a target for opponents.

Instead, they said, the administration hopes by only presenting the problem to build up support for their proposal.

The Rare Adventure
by BERNARD FERGUSON
Copyright 1954 by Bernard Ferguson. Published by NEA Service, Inc.

They came to a heavy wooden door with metal fastenings, before which Camille paused.

"This," he said, "is one of our chief treasures. There are relics here from our great days of piracy. You will see."

Heavy leather chests stood around the walls, and the walls themselves were hung with valuables. Most were ornaments in beaten silver, but some seemed to be of genuine gold. The first at which they looked was a golden triptych, showing the Last Supper in the middle panel, the Resurrection and Ascension in the other two, all in deep relief; according to Camille, it was part of a cargo taken from a ship destined for Ragusa early in the seventeenth century. To many Camille was able to attach the names of the actual pirate captains who had brought them home, or the ship which had carried them. "This," he would say, "was part of the cargo of the San Marco of Monfalcone"; over and over again he said, "That was brought here by Al Merhametz himself."

At last he took them out of the treasury and led them up a winding stair on to the synagogue roof to look at the view.

"Areg is entirely Jewish, I gather, but what about those villages up on the hills?" Allan asked.

"Some are Jewish and some are Berber, but a good deal of Berber labor is employed by Jews."

"And does that make for good relations between the two?"

"You might certainly expect otherwise," said Camille, "but in fact there has never been any trouble, not even when there was trouble in Palestine. In many parts of Tunis, and in Algeria and Morocco, the troubles in Palestine produced sympathetic troubles, but here, never."

"And how do you account for that?" asked Mollie.

"Because we are all Seknougals first," said Camille, with a marked emphasis. "Through the ages we have had a great mixture of blood. We have been joined by all sorts of people from many races—Greeks, Phoenicians, Romans, and later Turks, Spaniards, Genoese, Frenchmen, Englishmen, Scotsmen even." There was just a hint of a pause. "You see that white village there, down to the south? That was Clusium, the Roman port; and there were Phoenicians there before that. It is to Clusium that I am to take you to lunch."

"I'm awfully sorry..." began Allan.

"But I insist; all is arranged. There is only one difficulty, and it is easily overcome. Today is the Sabbath, and although my family and I do not observe it meticulously, I promise you, Areg is a very devout city. So I can't accompany you because the orthodox do not allow one to use any form of vehicle on the Sabbath."

"I never knew that," said Mollie.

"Well, if you will get back into your car, and drive out of the town the way you came, and take the first track to the right—that one there, which you can see leaving the Seknou road—I shall be waiting for you by the trees; and

Tryouts May 5 and 9 For Operetta at Egyptian Music Camp

State theatre, Du Quoin; Thursday, May 9, at 7:30 p. m. Mt. Vernon high school.

Students are urged to try out for lead roles, for roles in the dancing chorus and the singing chorus. Successful students will be awarded partial scholarships to camp, Atwood said.

Directing the auditions will be R. P. Hibbs, Du Quoin, producer of the operetta; W. H. Beckmeyer, Mt. Vernon, director of music for the operetta, and Atwood, director of the camp.

The operetta, "Show Boat," will be presented by the Egyptian Music Camp, Du Quoin, on July 5 and 6, on the stage in front of the grandstand in the Fairgrounds.

Monthly Potluck Of Presbyterian Fellowship Group

Approximately 30 couples were present at the monthly potluck meeting of the First Presbyterian Fellowship group, in the lower rooms of the church Sunday, April 28, at 6:30 p. m.

The food committee was: Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Polk, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Stump and Mr. and Mrs. Elvie Gideumb Jr.

there I will break the Sabbath by climbing into your car, and taking you to lunch at Clusium."

Argument seemed useless, and Allan and Mollie gave in. Downstairs they met their escort—who was deeply relieved to see them—and walked toward the car.

Camille waved his hand and disappeared into a side street.

"I wish we could shake him off," said Allan. "We're having a fascinating day of it, but I'm a little worried at not having told Billon. I wonder if we could ring him up from Clusium, or whatever the place is called that he's taking us to?"

"Perhaps we ought to. But we certainly couldn't get out of going."

"No, I don't think we could. But what an amazing collection of stuff that was. Must be worth 100,000 pounds at least."

"I know," said Mollie. "But look, Allan: I think this luncheon party may be going to be embarrassing. I have a hunch that we're getting very warm about the Kaid."

"And last night Fernana telling me that he could arrange for us to meet interesting people. And it was him who fixed up this chap..."

"And he's fixed up a luncheon party for us! I wonder if we're being idiotically dense."

"It's jolly tricky to get out of it now," said Allan.

But an excuse offered. Pere Paleologue, and a little two-horsepower Citroen with the hood rolled back. It pulled up with a screech of brakes a hundred yards on the Areg side of the junction of the Seknou road and the Clusium track, with Pere Paleologue waving frantically. The taxi overshot, but Paleologue was out of his car and with them almost as soon as it came to a halt.

"You are going back to Seknou?" he panted. "That's good! Captain Billon sent me to find you, and I was afraid I might have difficulty. But now we can go back together."

"I'm sorry, Father," said Allan, "but we are going to lunch at Clusium. We are just turning off along the road there."

"No, no," said Paleologue urgently, "that is the very thing I have come to prevent. It is absolutely important that you must not go to Clusium."

The program was a continuation of the World's Religions presented by Rev. Burroughs. The subject was Hinduism, which is predominantly in India. A colorful, interesting film strip was shown depicting customs, beliefs, etc. of this religion with its many idols representing their deities or gods. A group discussion followed, which brought out many interesting highlights in the study of this religion. The audience response confirmed the interest shown to this series, which was ordered from a recent series of articles in a National Publication (Life magazine), along with a book on the subject. Rev. Burroughs will continue the study of World Religions in the fall.

HOW PLYMOUTH'S BIG ECONOMY WIN AFFECTS YOU!

If you're an average driver, you wouldn't have had a chance in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. It takes seasoned professionals to win in this kind of competition.

Every car of every make entered in the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run was a new 1957 stock model. Every car was carefully tuned for the Run and the cars were piloted by real experts in this exacting kind of driving. Naturally, the mileage they got is higher than the figure you can expect.

The way this race—and all previous Mobilgas Economy Runs—was judged is another area that should interest you:

Cars of different weights and engine displacements cannot compete on an equal basis. Such a competition would produce misleading miles-per-gallon figures. If miles-per-gallon were the only consideration, a motor bike could run away with first place. Obviously, other factors must be considered.

In order to give all cars a fair chance, the engineers used ton-miles-per-gallon as their yardstick—and as a basis for the official Mobilgas Economy Run prizes. This establishes a definite relationship between gasoline consumed, distance traveled, and weight carried. It is the only measure of gasoline economy that has any real significance to the engineers—or to you as an average motorist.

Now look at the results of the Run with the above thoughts in mind: Plymouth swept its field—First Place winner in "Class A," the division that included all the well-known low-price cars. As certified by the United States Automobile Club, Plymouth's official ton-miles-per-gallon led the entire "Class A" field.

Bear in mind, too, that Plymouth's winning mark was set using a V-8 engine with TorqueFlite automatic transmission. Several of the losing cars in Plymouth's division used 6-cylinder engines—supposedly more economical. But Plymouth beat every car in sight, 6's and V-8's alike.

But here's what Plymouth's victory does mean to you: The Plymouth you buy at your Plymouth dealer's is the same, engine for engine, part for part, as the Plymouth that won the Mobilgas Economy Run.

The superior engineering that enabled Plymouth to run away with first place is built into every Plymouth. And that means you can expect economy that will save you real money in ordinary driving.

So before you invest a dime in any automobile, it's to your advantage to compare all three low-price cars. Compare them for economy... for beauty... for riding and handling ease... for performance. Then make your decision.

Only Plymouth dares to make so bold a challenge, because only Plymouth, of the low-price 3, has so many three-years-ahead features, yet leads its field in day-in, day-out economy.

Prove it to yourself. Your Plymouth dealer will be glad to give you a guest drive at your convenience.

Ferrell Hospital Affiliates with Harrisburg School of Practical Nursing

The Ferrell hospital of Eldorado will be affiliated with the Harrisburg School of Practical Nursing and will offer clinical experience to local trainees in the near future, according to an announcement made today by Dr. N. A. Thompson of Eldorado and by Mrs. Shirley Oshel director of the Harrisburg Nursing School.

Mrs. Oshel reported that the Advisory Board of the Harrisburg School of Practical Nursing is happy to add the Ferrell hospital to the three other institutions which are offering clinical experience for the local trainees. Other hospitals now participating in the program are the Harrisburg hospital and the Harrisburg Medical Foundation of Harrisburg and the Hardin County General Hospital in Rosiclare.

The Harrisburg school, which is one of fourteen such schools in the state, was organized last year and already has one class under way. Fifteen students were enrolled in the fall of 1956 and fourteen completed the 16-week pre-clinical training period. At the present these students are in the clinical phase of the program in the afore-mentioned hospitals. As soon as they have completed their course, they will be eligible for State Board examination to become licensed practical nurses.

Mrs. Oshel reported that many favorable comments had been made on the attitude and efficiency of the students by patients at the hospitals.

Miss Elida M. Stein of the Nurse Division of the State Department of Education and Registration recently completed an inspection of the Harrisburg Nurse School and reported that she was quite favorably impressed with the progress of the school. She and other officials were quite complimentary of the support and favorable community spirit which have been evidenced. The school of nursing has been financed primarily through various donations of individuals, organizations, and business concerns in this area. Some funds are available from State and Federal sources.

While students come primarily from a four-county area centered around Harrisburg, there is no restriction as to residence. The school is administered by a local advisory board consisting of Mrs. Margaret Hart, Eltis Henson, Dr. John Slightom, Bob Davenport, Phillips Nyberg, Mrs. Fern Patton, Dr. Warren Tuttle, Mrs. Marian Humm and Hudson Mugge, Harrisburg; Dr. N. A. Thompson, Eldorado; Harold Efner, Rosiclare; Raymond Foster, Elizabethtown; Mrs. Rachael Ashley, Carmi.

Mrs. Oshel reports that a new class will be accepted in the near future and will probably start their training some time in the early fall.

HOLLYWOOD MOVIES & TV TODAY

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Hollywood on TV: Hollywood's best acting performances this year may be on TV quiz shows. Maybe they'll even award special Oscars. The race for higher and higher ratings with "box office" contestants is getting rather racy, I'm told by Orson Welles.

A logical quiz show contestant because of his boy genius background, Orson says he was approached by a big New York quiz show representative just before starting his Hollywood movie, "Badge of Evil."

As outspoken Orson tells it: "I turned down the offer — and it was an OFFER — not an invitation. It was a shocker. It rocked me on my heels."

I've heard the same thing from other stars. Two well-known film actors told me of being "guaranteed" $10,000 to appear on one quiz show. That's more than enough money for expenses, including round trip transportation from Hollywood.

Isn't it about time someone blew the whistle?

Grace Fields bowed out as Chill Wills' proposed costar in MGM's telefilm series of "Min and Bill." Now Charlotte Greenwood is in the running. The series goes before the camera this summer. . . . MGM's first one-hour dramatic show for home screens, by the way, will be "Willow Walk" by Sineclair Lewis. The story has been on the studio shelf for years since its purchase for a fabulous sum.

NOT ON THE teleprompter: George Gobel about what he'll be doing Saturday nights next season when his TV show becomes a Tuesday fixture: "I'll be home watching all the Saturday night shows and sneering at them."

The Witnet: Howler on Phil Silvers' show when an Army pal, after seeing "Around the World in 80 Days," raves about Marlene Dietrich in the film and says: "Wow! What I wouldn't give to be 10 years OLDER."

This is television, Mrs. Jones: Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond played supporting roles to Art Carney in TV's "Charley's Aunt" but rated billing as "Special Guests." TV's price for movie names.

Marjorie Lord will be playing Danny Thomas' new wife for at least five years. That's what it says on a contract she just signed with Danny. Latest real life couple who turned down a "His" and "Hers" series were Ernie Kovacs and his wife, comedienne Edith Adams. . . . Shirley Temple dolls are slated for production again now that she'll be on TV next season. One of her doll royalty checks, when she was a kid star, totaled $141,000.

HEAR ABOUT THE fellow who couldn't sell his home in Beverly Hills? The place had never been on "Person to Person."

Sidney Miller's slogan for old movies on TV: "Later Than Ever."

Big TV offers are coming Jean Simmons' way and she's saying, "Maybe." But she was frank about them to me.

I've had no theater experience," she said, "and right now it's just plain no nerve."

Famed Broadway producer Jed Harris has closed a deal to bring the hilarious Jeeves stories to home screens as a series. Jeeves, you may recall is the perfect gentleman's gentleman. . . . Family act note: Juvenile star Mickey (Circus Boy) Braddock's kid sister, Gemma, joins him in a forthcoming episode. . . . Mortimer Snerd is due for a crew haircut if and when "Do You Trust Your Wife?" returns. But Spike Jones who replaced the show, already has a bigger rating than the Edgar Bergen give-away stanza ever had.

WENDELL NILES, remembered as Bop Hope's long-time radio announcer, hopes to break the commercial barrier as a comedian on his own TV show.

Donald O'Connor says he'd sure love to have a product named "Alternate." All that free publicity from TV announcers saying, "And now a word from our alternate sponsor."

Vic Knight about Elvis Presley: "There's no truth to the rumor that he'll start his Army career as an officer. If there's a commission it will go to his agent."

Not in the Script: Veteran movie producer Sol C. Siegel blasting celestia' Hollywood salaries: "The public today buys pictures, not names. Stars are like machinery. They must be replaced every so often, thus giving new freshness to motion pictures."

THIS IS HOLLYWOOD, Mrs. Jones: The script of Mario Lanza's European film, "Seven Hills of Rome," adding up to 128 pages. But the contracts for the film, involving three film companies, Mario and his business managers, will cover 500 pages. About which someone said, "They should film the contract."

The nation's movie theaters now add up to 19,110 — highest total of active houses since 1945.

The 5,000 "fringe" movie theaters closed in recent years have been replaced by almost the same number of drive-ins, according to film distributing companies. . . . Gary Cooper is thinking about a TV emoting plunge. He'd done a couple of home screen interviews but no emoting. . . . Andy Devine's sprout, 17-year-old Dennis, changed his mind about acting and goes to Stanford U. next fall as a pre-med student.

Farmers Union Meeting Friday

J. B. McFarland, county president of the Farmers Union, is inviting all farmers and their families to a meeting at the Harrisburg City Hall Friday, May 8, at 7:30 p. m. Ralph Bradley, state president, will be the guest speaker. His topics will be education, cooperation and legislation to better serve the farmers' needs. Joe Callanhan, chairman of the state board, also will be present.

Downstate Fisherman's Guide

Few Bass Catches Reported; Crappie, Bluegill Productive

By Pete Brown
(From reports by the Southern Illinois University Cooperative Fisheries Laboratory and the Illinois Department of Conservation)
With 67-degree water temperatures arousing some bass spawning activity, boat fishermen at Crab Orchard lake have just about decided to write off the spring as another frustrating experience in the Mysterious Outdoors.

There has been practically no bass catch in Crab Orchard Lake this year; in fact, if you divided the fish caught by the hours spent trying, the take would amount to about one scale per man.

There have been a few exceptions, the most extraordinary of which occurred the morning of May 24. Carlo Riggio, a Murphysboro plug fisherman, took to the reeds east of the spillway and flung in a Bomber. A lanky old mama bass powdered the lure on a medium retrieve, and Riggio lugged it in for one of the biggest reported catches in the lake's 16-year fishing history: nine pounds and 10 ounces. It measured only 23 inches, an indication of how heavily burdened with roe it was.

Good Crappie Catches
Meanwhile, crappie fishermen at Crab Orchard are stringing some of the best catches in Southern Illinois. The fish are good sized—12 and 13 inches being common—a phenomenon that last occurred four years ago. Some seasoned observers predict the crappie will run the same proportions or better next year before falling into another cycle decline.

Some of the best catches are being made on goldfish. Bass fishing at Grassy, good during the week, slumped considerably over the April 26-27 weekend. Julius Swayne, dock operator, said the two days failed to produce a fish over three and one-half pounds, the first time in almost three weeks that no one has weighed in a six or seven pound bass. The big ones are lying in the weeds and boat fishermen aren't arousing them. Only two bass showing the ravages of spawning preparation were observed during the week.

Crappie and bluegill fishing have been productive at Horseshoe Lake, where the water temperature is 69 degrees. During a seven-hour creel census Sunday, one of the slowest days of the week, 47 fishermen checked in at George Walker's dock with 271 crappie and 55 bluegill. Here, too, the crappie are good and meaty. William Street, Cairo, landed one going a little over two and one-half pounds earlier in April.

Fishing Good at Benton
Lake Moses, located near route 14 a few miles east of Benton, has been producing some tempting bass, crappie and bluegill catches the past few weeks, and may afford some lively action during the summer. The water looks good, and the lake, full of stumpy areas and brushy, lily-pod dotted necks, suggests an ideal bluegill and crappie location.

John Braden, operator of the public Sunnyside Club at the lake, runs a concession stand, sells live bait, and rents boats (no motors permitted). Public swimming and picnic facilities are situated near the club. Best catch of the week at Moses went to Dempsey Shepard, a resident of the lake area, who took 50 crappie

Musial Blasts 13th Inning Homer for 2,801st Hit as Cardinals Beat Pirates, 6-5

By United Press
Stan Musial is murdering the ball at a .476 clip and Ted Williams is right up there at .426, so if there are any questions about either slowing up, please don't ask them within earshot of all those shell-shocked National and American League pitchers.

Musial claims he'll quit only after he collects his 3,000th hit. He got his 2,800th and his 2,801st against the Pirates Tuesday night and his last hit was a 13th inning homer that gave the Cardinals a 6-5 victory.

Williams says he'll hang 'em up when he has enough money but if he continues to blast the ball as he did Tuesday night—with three hits, including a homer in Boston's 3-1 triumph over Kansas City—he might decide to keep going indefinitely.

In other American League games, Chicago held on to first place with a 6-1 decision over Baltimore; Cleveland defeated Washington, 5-1, and Detroit nipped New York, 2-1, in 10 innings.

Giants Shutout Braves
The Giants blanked the Braves, 4-0; Brooklyn topped Chicago, 10-9, in 10 innings and Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia, 6-3.

Musial's game-winning homer off Private relief ace Elroy Face after Pittsburgh had rallied with five runs in the ninth to send the game into extra innings. Wally Moon and Del Ennis also homered for the Cards.

Williams slammed a homer, double and a single off Kansas City loser Ned Garver. Knuckleballer Willard Nixon limited the

Herrin Coach Resigns; Accepts Post at Cahokia

HERRIN, Ill. (AP)—Earl Lee, coach of the Herrin high school state champion basketball team, has resigned to become head basketball coach at Cahokia high school.

The Herrin team had a record of 33 wins and 2 losses this season, which was Lee's seventh with the school, six of them as an assistant coach.

Lee, 31, in announcing his resignation Tuesday, said he "had to look to the future" in accepting the new position.

Lee said the Cahokia position offered him more financially. Shortly after the Herrin team won the state championship Lee announced he was in the market for a better paying job.

Junior Legion Baseball Team Is Organized

Program in Effect In Harrisburg First Time Since 1947

George Hart Post 167 of The American Legion and the Pool Pontiac Co. have joined forces to return the Junior American Legion baseball program to Harrisburg.

This season will be the first time the program has been in effect in Harrisburg since 1947. At that time James Gwaltney, present adjutant of the Department of Illinois, The American Legion, organized a Junior Legion team, but the program failed to stick.

The Junior Legion baseball program has mushroomed throughout the nation from a few thousand boys participating about ten years ago to a total of about 600,000 youngsters ranging in ages from 15 to 17 1/2 years.

There are eight teams at present in the 24th District of The American Legion. Carmi, Fairfield, Norris City, Springfield, Metropolis, Eldorado, McLeansboro and Harrisburg have entered teams so far with three more Legion posts making an effort to get programs under way.

Bob Pool, owner of Pool Pontiac Co., stated that "money and time spent for the youth of this or any other community cannot possibly be regretted." He expressed much enthusiasm about the program and the work of the local Legion post in bringing Legion baseball to Harrisburg.

Gilbert Maynard and Raymond Pickford will manage the Harrisburg team. They plan on utilizing most of the youngsters who played on a teenage team last year.

Baseball fans of the area will get to see home hustling play from a group of appreciative kids who compiled a record of 14 wins and two losses last year.

Legion Post Commander Willard Fulkerson and Mr. Pool today extended a welcome to everybody to go out and see the games played by the Junior Legion teams.

Annual Junior High Track, Field Meet Thursday

The annual Harrisburg Junior high school track and field meet is scheduled for Thursday, May 2, at Taylor Field, starting at 1 p. m.

Schools expected to be represented Thursday: Olney, Mt. Vernon, Centralia, Fairfield, Norris City, West Frankfort, Herrin, Benton, Zeigler, Sesser, Wasson, Carrier Mills, Carbondale, Du Quoin, Ridgway and Harrisburg.

Harrisburg will be host to the regional meet—for Saline, White and Gallatin county schools—Thursday, May 9, and Wednesday, May 15, the state Junior high school meet will be held at Taylor Field.

Three trophies will be awarded in the invitational meet Thursday and points scored on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis with ribbons awarded the first five finishers in each event.

Sixth Annual District Meeting of Rebekah Assembly Held Friday, April 26

The sixth semi-annual session of the Rebekah Assembly of District 29 was held in the Harrisburg Odd Fellows hall Friday, April 26.

This was a special meeting to entertain the district and Pride of Arrow lodge No. 234 was hostess and opened the meeting in regular form with Anna Lea Christman, noble grand, presiding.

The officers of the lodge were instructed to surrender their chairs to the district officers and the vice grand, Verbal Wallace of Pride of Arrow, presented the district president, Bessie Border of Harrisburg.

As Mrs. Border was being presented, eight Rebekahs bearing the large crescent moon and seven stars which is the emblem of this gospel year, formed behind the altar, each reciting a significant message in honor of Mrs. Border's leadership as president of the district.

Beyond the altar the noble grands of the district formed a double escort line holding the small crescent moon and seven stars forming an archway for the president to be conducted to her station. The noble grand of the lodge was joined by the State Assembly president, Dorothy Kruskop, in welcoming Mrs. Border to the meeting and to her station.

The district trio from Carrier Mills, Mildred Chaney, Lea Travelstead and Freda Moake, sang a special song in greeting and an orchid was given to Sister Border by one of the pages and she was conducted to her station.

The president welcomed the other officers who were all present. The appointive officers were welcomed and each conducted to her chair and the district meeting was declared opened by the president.

Roll call of past presidents was answered by 11 present. The office of district musician was filled by Sister Elsie Jennings of Junction in the afternoon and by Sister Sue Andrews of Rosiclare in the evening session.

The State Assembly officers presented were Dorothy Kruskop, state assembly president; Harriet Kepke, warden; Laura M. Bade, secretary; Alpha Seymour, treasurer; Chester Patton, Grand warden of the Grand lodge of I.O.O.F.; Roscoe Johnson, Grand junior warden of the Grand encampment; Ray Johnson, Grand marshal of the Grand lodge of Illinois; Elizabeth Oakley, president of the Assembly of Kentucky.

Other appointees of the State Assembly of Illinois presented were Elizabeth Howell, president of District 30; Ruth Walsh, member of the mileage per diem committee; Lillian Barnett, member of the Resolutions committee.

The same emblem ceremony for the district president was carried out for all state officers present.

The welcome address was given by Noble Grand Anna Lea Christman and the response by Maude Malone of Galatia lodge.

A beautiful tribute to the flag was given by Charlotte Flynn of Elizabethtown. A talk on educational foundation was prepared by Georgia Patterson and given by Vivian Gibbs of Harrisburg. The International Rebekah Representative, Anna Bower, from Golconda, spoke about our paper.

The reports of district officers and delegates were read and approved and Leona Norris of Norris City invited the next district meeting to be held in the Elizabeth Jones Rebekah lodge No. 217

The meeting was reconvened at 7:30. The beautiful memorial service for the 20 beloved sisters and brothers who have answered the last roll call was by Rosiclare lodge No. 601. Sister Sue Andrews was the chairman of this ceremony and the sacred theme, "I Won't Have to Cross Jordan Alone," was very impressive. It was led by an angel dressed in white who left her candle on an altar during soft music by Sister Andrews.

A large painting of The Praying Hands was placed on an easel during the president's hour for Sister Dorothy Kruskop, and she was conducted through a double line of delegates to be seated as she received the Heart and Hands fund from the district for the children and old folks homes. She thanked the district in the name of the little children and aged sisters and brothers.

A very pleasant surprise was experienced when more distinguished visitors were announced. Brother James Elliott, deputy sovereign Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the World, and Brother Charles McCoy, Grand Master of the Jurisdiction of Illinois, who were presented by Brothers Ray Johnson and Roscoe Johnson, and gladly welcomed to the meeting by Mrs. Border.

They were accompanied by their wives who also were introduced.

The deputy sovereign Grand Master of the World and his wife are from Ohio. The Inside Guardian of the Assembly of Ohio, Sister Lucille Hodges, was also present.

Brother McCoy and Mrs. McCoy are from Fairfield.

The talks by the state and visiting officers were full of interest and greatly enjoyed by the people present. The district chaplain, Marie Dirse from Elizabethtown, invoked divine blessing and the district meeting was declared closed. Pride of Arrow officers closed the special meeting in regular form.

Egyptian Health Department Workers Attend Illinois Public Health Conference

The 17th annual conference of the Illinois Public Health Association was held at the Edgewater Beach hotel, Chicago, on April 21 and 22. Members of the Egyptian Health Department attending the meeting were Mrs. Mable Grumley Burton, nursing supervisor, Miss Marion Matthews and Mrs. Marjorie Whitson, staff nurses, Monroe L. Rhodes and Robert Burns, sanitarians, Ambrose Kiestler, health educator, and Dr. Charles Elder, public health dentist.

These meetings always consist of one general meeting which all professional persons attend, then the various professions break up into smaller groups. The public health nurses program was devoted entirely to mental health. The speakers were Dr. Frederick Maddux, director of the Mental Health program, United States Public Health Service, who spoke on the national level regarding "Trends and Patterns in Discharge Care of the Mentally Ill Patient."

Alfred Slicer spoke on the subject of the rehabilitation of the mentally ill in Illinois. Miss Pearl Shalit spoke on "Public Health Nurse Participation in New Patterns of Care for the Mentally Ill." These three talks were followed by a panel discussion. Mrs. Mable Grumley Burton, nursing supervisor of the Egyptian Health Department, was a member of this discussion group. She told how the Egyptian Health Department was working with the families of mentally ill patients in this area. With the discovery of new methods of care for mentally ill patients and the increasing rate of discharged patients from mental hospitals, more and more of these patients are returning to every community. Therefore, public health nurses are now being called upon to visit the families of mentally ill patients during the absence of the patient as well as after the patient returns to the household. The subjects for the nurses' meeting were very timely as National Mental Health Week is April 23 to May 4.

The subjects discussed in the meetings attended by the sanitarians were the legal aspects of nuisances at state and local levels, the air pollution problem at federal and local levels, and what is being done about these problems.

The public health educator and dentist attended meetings on the National Health Survey and its implications for health education.
